Abstract: The material relates to the conflict between the ANC and the IFP in the 1980s and 1990s. Thousands of people died during the internecine civil war between the ANC and the IFP – These documents are historically important, politically sensitive and unavailable elsewhere. The package contains Walter Felgate's security papers, extracts from Felgate's unpublished memoir, Felgate's Section 29 TRC hearing and correspondence between Chief Mangosuthu Buthelezi, Sir Laurens van der Post and others.

Note from the Donor

Letter from the Donor:

To whom it may Concern:

An anonymous donor wishes to deposit the attached package of documentary material at the South Africa History Archive (SAHA). The material relates to the conflict between the ANC and the IFP in the 1980s and 1990s. Thousands of people died during the internecine civil war between the ANC and the IFP – These documents are historically important, politically sensitive and unavailable elsewhere. The package contains Walter Felgate's security papers, extracts from Felgate's unpublished memoir, Felgate's Section 29 TRC hearing and correspondence between Chief Mangosuthu Buthelezi, Sir Laurens van der Post and others.

The donor – who requests confidentiality for political reasons is a supporter of both freedom of speech and freedom of information. The donor has been a friend of the South African History Archive over many years and has had numerous discussion with former SAHA employees regarding donations. The donor would like the South African History Archive to make this material available to historians, researchers, journalists and the general public as quickly as possible.
