

JOIN US IN CELEBRATING 60 YEARS OF WOMEN ACTIVISM

Black Sash, in conjunction with the South African History Archive (SAHA) and Constitution Hill, invites you to join us in Johannesburg to celebrate Black Sash's 60th anniversary, and the launch of the new biography Sheena Duncan by Annemarie Hendrikz.

The celebration will include a panel discussion between Black Sash leaders, activists and allies, both past and present, including Bongki Mkhabela, Thandiwe Zulu, Judith Hawarden, Ish Mkhabela, Adele Kirsten, Gille de Vlieg and Marj Brown.

This will be followed by a few selected readings from the new biography on Sheena Duncan by Annemarie, and personal reflections by Sheena's daughters, Lindsay McTeague and Carey Duncan.

Two films about the work of Black Sash will also be screened in the course of the morning, and a SAHA exhibition kit relating to the work of Black Sash's Transvaal Rural Action Committee (TRAC), featuring the photographs of Gille de Vlieg, will also be on display.

RSVP online, by email to info@saha.org.za, or by phone to 011 718 2560

'This is a story that reaches across the period of some of the worst brutality, the most gracious transitions, the greatest achievements and the saddest failures that South Africa has ever known. I hope you find as much inspiration in reading Sheena's story as I did in knowing her.'

Desmond Tutu (from his introduction)
