

Publications Catalogue

2014

As part of SAHA's commitment to making archives more accessible to individuals and communities that would not ordinarily access archives, we 'repackage' archival materials to create a range of innovative publications and products for different audiences.

These publications are published exclusively by SAHA and are not available elsewhere.

A discount of 10% is available for educators and libraries wanting to order ten or more copies of publications.

SAHA is a registered Non-Profit Trust in terms of section 6(1) of the Trust Property Control Act, 1988 (Act 57 of 1988) - Trust No 2522/93. SAHA is a Non-Profit Organisation (registration no.: 031-807-NPO) with Public Benefit Organisation status in terms of section 10(1)(cN) of the Income Tax Act, 1962 (Act No. 58 of 1962).

All funds raised from the sale of SAHA's publications contribute to our training programmes, workshops and reprinting of publications.

SAHA thanks funders for their generous support in the development of these publications and products:

The Battle Against Forgetting:
HUMAN RIGHTS AND THE UNFINISHED BUSINESS OF THE TRC

THE BATTLE AGAINST FORGETTING:

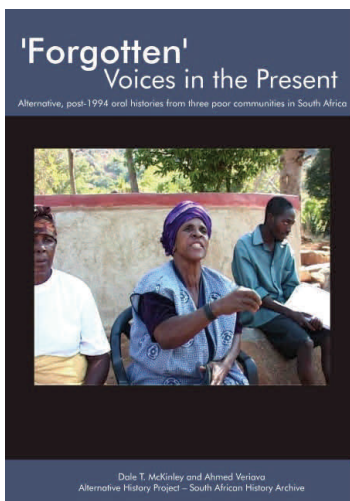

Human Rights and The Unfinished Business

The issue of justice is vitally important in societies in transition. How do societies where human rights violations were perpetrated in the past move forward to a new future that will allow for reconciliation and transformation?

The booklet is based on a SAHA exhibition, first displayed at Constitution Hill in Johannesburg in December 2010. The development of the exhibition, the associated workshops, and the production of this booklet was made possible through financial support from the Foundation for Human Rights and the Atlantic Philanthropies.

Price: R90.00

The booklet can be freely downloaded by registered users. However, owing to the large sizes of files, the booklet has been split up into ten sections.

SAHA IN THE CLASSROOM

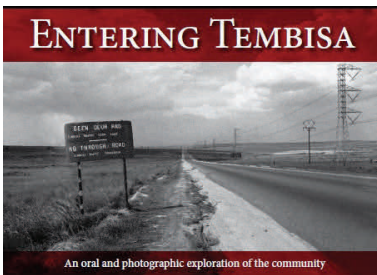

This series of booklets was developed for Grade 12 learners and teachers to support the practical implementation of a source-based study of South African history from 1976 - 1994.

There is a booklet for teachers to accompany each source booklet, with suggested answers to the questions in the related source booklets and advice for educators on how to use the sources in a classroom. The source-based activities are linked to the Learning Outcomes (LO) and Assessment Standards (AS) of the History curriculum. Tips on how to analyse different kinds of sources, how to deal with issues of bias, reliability and usefulness, are included, as well as how to analyse visual materials such as photographs and cartoons. The educator will then be able to pass these skills on to their learners.

Price: R120.00

PDFs of the booklets are also available as free downloads from the SAHA website.

The SAHA in the Classroom series was developed with the financial support of the Rosa Luxemburg Foundation.

ENTERING TEMBISA - BOOK AND CD VERSION OF ONLINE EXHIBITION

In keeping with the South African History Archive's commitment to capturing lost or neglected histories, SAHA worked with three community interns from Tembisa in 2010 and 2011 to conduct oral history interviews with residents about the history of the community.

Images from the 1980s by Gille de Vlieg, activist and Afrapix photographer, were the departure point. Interviews were conducted, scans of artefacts gathered, an exhibition and oral history competition with two high schools in was hosted by Tembisa West Library to mark Heritage Day 2011.

Price: R90.00

The report is accompanied by disc of the virtual exhibition which can also be viewed online.

KATORUS STORIES

The result of the art and memory workshop held by the Khulumani Support Group in Katorus on the East Rand, in February and March 2007. The workshop process used art-making to explore Khulumani members' memories relating to repression and violence on the East Rand, and to record and interpret these memories.

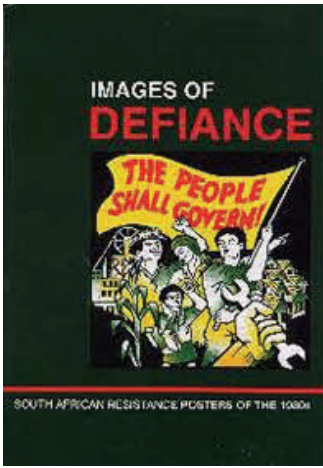

SAHA has subsequently supplied copies of Katorus Stories to the East Rand Khulumani Support Group to bring the book, along with an exhibition of the workshop process, to schools and other community venues throughout the Katorus area.

Materials produced in the course of this workshop process have now been archived at SAHA.

HISTORY IN THE MAKING:

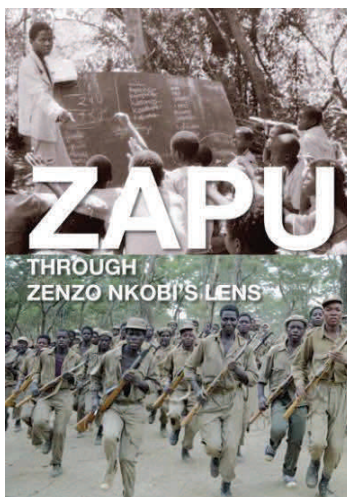

Documents reflecting a changing South Africa

The original SAHA publication, this journal formed part of the organisation's commitment to making history accessible to all. Published in the early nineties, the journal was SAHA's attempt to provide a platform to discuss and assess the changes taking place during negotiations for a democratic South Africa.

The aim was to reflect on both the dramatic unfolding of contemporary South African history, and the diversity of the struggle for a non-racial, non-sexist and democratic South Africa.

Limited quantities available.

SAHA is now in the process of digitising each issue of the journal and making them available as free downloads from the SAHA website.

ZAPU THROUGH ZENZO NKOBI'S LENS
